Summary of Legislation: This bill specifies that a party to a protective order proceeding has a duty to inform the court of any military protective orders issued by a military commander in effect between the parties. The bill requires the court to consider evidence of a military protective order in effect against a respondent for the protection of the petitioner and allows the court to grant an ex parte order for protection based upon this evidence.

Effective Date: July 1, 2026.

Explanation of State Expenditures:

Explanation of State Revenues:

Explanation of Local Expenditures: Enforcement of Protective Orders: This bill is likely to increase the number of protection orders issued by Indiana courts and, therefore, the amount of calls for service to local law enforcement agencies related to enforcement of those orders. Any increase in workload is within the routine functions of each agency and should be able to be met within existing resources.

Courts: The provisions of this bill may either increase or decrease the workload for courts associated with a given case depending on the facts of the case. The net impact on courts is indeterminate.
