According to the Author

"Structured sports programming is a powerful tool to promote rehabilitation and help individuals successfully reintegrate into their communities. Sports help build discipline, teamwork, and accountability. AB 2204 – The Second Chance Sports Act – seeks to harness this power by requiring the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation to adopt a policy to expand opportunities for organized sports for incarcerated persons and establishes a dedicated fund to support this effort. Through the transformative power of sports, The Second Chance Sports Act will make our prisons safer, support correctional staff, and help reduce crime when people return home, all while leveraging critical public-private partnerships to avoid burdening taxpayers."

Arguments in Support

According to According to the California Correctional Peace Officers Association (CCPOA), "Correctional peace officers see firsthand the importance of effective rehabilitation programs in improving institutional safety and supporting successful reentry. AB 2204 takes a thoughtful step in that direction by expanding access to organized sports programming, which has been shown to improve physical and mental health, build discipline, and support positive behavioral outcomes.

"By directing CDCR to establish a structured policy and encouraging partnerships with colleges, universities, and professional organizations, this bill helps bring consistency and broader access to programs that are currently limited and uneven across facilities. The creation of a fund to support public-private partnerships will further strengthen these efforts without placing undue pressure on state resources."

Arguments in Opposition

None submitted.

FISCAL COMMENTS

According to the Senate Committee on Appropriations, "Moderate to significant costs to CDCR to establish the Second Chance Sports Act (General Fund).

"Unknown annual costs to CDCR and the Gov Ops Agency to establish and operate organized sports programming (private)."
