Assembly Amendments require that the person knew that the matter depicted a person under 18 years of age in an act of sexual conduct.

 - b) “Sexual exploitation” refers to the following:

FISCAL EFFECT: Appropriation: No Fiscal Com.: Yes Local: Yes

According to the Assembly Appropriations Committee:

- Non-reimbursable local incarceration costs of an unknown amount for additional convictions. A first violation is punishable by a fine of not more than $2,000, by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than one year, or both. A person previously convicted of a violation of that subdivision or any section of the same chapter is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison. Actual costs will depend on the number of convictions and the length of each sentence. The average annual cost to incarcerate one person in county jail is approximately $29,000, though costs are higher in larger counties. County incarceration costs are not subject to reimbursement by the state. However, overcrowding in county jails creates cost pressure on the General Fund (GF) because the state has historically granted new funding to counties to offset overcrowding resulting from public safety realignment.
- Increased state incarceration costs of an unknown amount (GF) to the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) to the extent additional persons with qualifying prior convictions are committed to state prison. The Legislative Analyst's Office estimates the average annual cost to incarcerate one person in state prison at $128,000; CDCR estimates $135,921. If two people are incarcerated in state prison as a result of this crime's expansion, the resulting incarceration costs to CDCR would exceed this committee's suspense threshold.
- Potential court cost pressures of an unknown amount (Trial Court Trust Fund (TCTF), GF) to adjudicate additional charges. The conduct reached by this bill — downloading, streaming, and accessing — is substantially more common than the development, duplication, printing, and exchange the statute currently reaches, so the number of chargeable violations could increase. Actual costs will depend on the number of charges filed and the time needed to adjudicate each case. Although courts are not funded on the basis of workload, increased pressure on the TCTF may create a demand for increased funding for courts from the GF. The state budget provides annual GF backfills to the TCTF to offset revenue reductions, totaling approximately $117.3 million in 2025-26.
