DIGEST: This bill establishes the Citizens Redistricting Commission in the County of San Bernardino (CRCCSB) and tasks it with adjusting the supervisorial district boundaries following each federal decennial census.

ANALYSIS:

Existing law:

- 1) Requires the board of supervisors of each county, following each federal decennial census, to adopt boundaries for all of the supervisorial districts of the county so that the supervisorial districts are substantially equal in population as required by the United States Constitution. These district boundaries need to comply with the United States Constitution, the California Constitution, and the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965.

- 2) Authorizes a county, general law city, school district, community college district, or a special district to establish an independent redistricting commission, an advisory redistricting commission, or a hybrid redistricting commission by resolution, ordinance, or charter amendment, subject to certain conditions.
- 3) Defines “independent redistricting commission,” “advisory redistricting commission,” and “hybrid redistricting commission,” as the following:
 - a) An “independent redistricting commission” is a body, other than a legislative body, that is empowered to adopt the district boundaries of a legislative body.
 - b) An “advisory redistricting commission” is a body that recommends to a legislative body placement of the district boundaries for that legislative body.
 - c) A “hybrid redistricting commission” is a body that recommends to a legislative body two or more maps for the placement of the district boundaries for that legislative body, where the legislative body must adopt one of those maps without modification, except as may be required to comply with state or federal law.
- 4) Establishes redistricting commissions in Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Merced, Orange, Riverside, Sacramento, San Diego, and San Luis Obispo counties, and tasks each commission with adjusting districts of supervisorial districts after each decennial federal census.

This bill:

- 1) Establishes a 14-member CRCCSB and tasks it with adjusting the boundary lines of the supervisorial districts in San Bernardino County following each federal decennial census.
- 2) Provides that the political party preferences of the CRCCSB members, as shown on the members’ most recent affidavits of registration, must be as proportional as possible to the total number of voters who are registered with each political party in San Bernardino County, or who decline to state or do not indicate a party preference, as determined by registration at the most recent statewide election. The political party or no party preferences of the CRCCSB members are not required to be exactly the same as the proportion of political party and no party preferences among the registered voters of the county. At least one CRCCSB member must reside in each of the five existing supervisorial districts.

- 3) Prescribes specific qualifications to serve on the CRCCSB, requirements while serving on the CRCCSB, and prohibitions following service on the CRCCSB.
- 4) Provides that interested individuals may submit an application to the county elections official to be considered for membership on the CRCCSB. The county elections official reviews the applications and eliminates applicants who do not meet the specific qualifications of commissioners.
- 5) Provides, from the pool of qualified applicants, the county elections official shall select 60 qualified applicants. The county elections official is required to publicize the names of the applicants for at least 30 days. The county elections official may eliminate any of the selected applicants if the official becomes aware that the applicant does not meet the qualifications to be a commissioner.
- 6) Provides that after the time period when the names of the qualified applicants are made public, the county elections official must create a subpool for each of the five existing supervisorial districts. The San Bernardino County Auditor-Controller is required to conduct a random drawing to select one commissioner from each of the five subpools established by the county elections official at a regularly scheduled meeting of the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors. Following this random drawing, the Auditor-Controller randomly selects three additional commissioners from all of the remaining applicants. The eight commissioners selected review the remaining applicants and appoint six additional members to the CRCCSB.
- 7) Provides that nine CRCCSB members constitutes a quorum and at least nine affirmative votes are required for any official action.
- 8) Provides a process to remove a commissioner for substantial neglect of duty, gross misconduct in office, causing the CRCCSB to be unable to discharge its duties with nine affirmative votes, or not meeting or no longer meeting the requirements to serve on the CRCCSB.
- 9) Requires various outreach and meeting requirements before the drafting of a map and following the creation of a draft map for the supervisorial districts.
- 10) Requires the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors to take all steps necessary to ensure that a complete and accurate computerized database is available for redistricting, and that procedures are in place to provide to the public ready access to redistricting data and computer software equivalent to what is available to the CRCCSB members.

- 11) Requires the CRCCSB to adopt a redistricting plan adjusting the boundaries of the supervisorial districts and file the plan with the county elections official no later than 204 days before San Bernardino County's next regularly scheduled election occurring after January 1 in each year ending in the number two.
- 12) Subjects the plan to referendum in the same manner as ordinances.
- 13) Requires the CRCCSB to issue, with the final map, a report that explains the basis on which the CRCCSB made its decisions in achieving compliance with the criteria prescribed by this bill.

Background

California Citizens Redistricting Commission. In 2008, voters approved Proposition 11, creating the California Citizens Redistricting Commission (CCRC), and gave it the responsibility for establishing district lines for the Assembly, Senate, and Board of Equalization. In 2010, the voters approved Proposition 20 and gave the CCRC the responsibility for establishing lines for California's districts for the United States House of Representatives. The CCRC consists of 14 registered voters: five Democrats, five Republicans, and four who have a party preference different than the two largest political parties. These commissioners are chosen using procedures specified in Proposition 11.

Legislative Authority for County Redistricting Commissions. The Legislature has created independent redistricting commissions for nine counties: Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Merced, Orange, Riverside, Sacramento, San Diego, and San Luis Obispo.

The Legislature also authorized, but did not require, counties and general law cities to establish redistricting commissions. SB 1108 (Allen, Chapter 784, Statutes of 2016) authorized two different types of commissions: independent commissions and advisory commissions. SB 1108 generally provided cities and counties with the discretion to determine the structure and membership of an advisory or independent redistricting commission.

While SB 1108 imposed few restrictions and requirements on advisory commissions, it did subject members of independent commissions to extensive eligibility requirements and post-service restrictions. Subsequently, SB 1018

(Allen, Chapter 462, Statutes of 2018) allowed for a third type of redistricting commission: hybrid redistricting commissions.

Redistricting in San Bernardino County. In 2021, the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors redrew its supervisorial district lines using data from the 2020 federal decennial census. To assist with San Bernardino County's redistricting process, the county used an advisory redistricting commission. This commission conducted 16 public meetings in multiple locations throughout San Bernardino County. The commission publicly examined and discussed five proposed supervisorial district maps submitted by the public, one map created by a commission member, three maps created at the direction of the advisory commission, and an updated map from 2011 with the 2020 Census information. The commission referred three maps for recommendation to the Board of Supervisors. The Board of Supervisors made some modifications to the draft maps and adopted one of those maps at a meeting on December 14, 2021.

Comments

- 1) Author's Statement. This bill requires the establishment of an independent redistricting commission in the County of San Bernardino. This will create fair and equitable supervisorial maps for our community.

Under current law, county boards of supervisors adjust district boundaries following each census. Several large California counties have already adopted independent commissions to oversee this process. This bill would bring San Bernardino County in line with these best practices by shifting redistricting authority to an independent, community-focused body.

San Bernardino County is one of the most diverse and fastest-growing regions in California, and our communities deserve a redistricting process that is fair, transparent, and rooted in the voices of residents, not politics. This measure will help ensure that every neighborhood has an equitable opportunity to be represented and that our district lines reflect the people who live here. An independent commission builds trust in our elections and strengthens our democracy for the long term.

- 2) Political Party Preferences. If chaptered, the CRCCSB makeup will be required, as shown on the members' most recent affidavits of registration, to be as proportional as possible to the total number of voters who are registered with each political party preference in San Bernardino County, as determined by registration at the most recent statewide election. If the December 30, 2025, Report of Registration is used to calculate the potential party preference composition of the CRCCSB, Democrats would have 5 or 6 members, Republicans would have 4 or 5 members, No Party Preference voters would have 3 or 4 members, and each of the remaining party preferences (American Independent, Green, Libertarian, and Peace and Freedom) would have 0 or 1 member.

The bill was vetoed by Governor Newsom.

FISCAL EFFECT: Appropriation: No Fiscal Com.: Yes Local: Yes

According to the Senate Committee on Appropriations:

By requiring San Bernardino County to create and operate a redistricting commission as specified, this bill creates a state-mandated local program. To the extent the Commission on State Mandates determines that the provisions of this bill create a new program or impose a higher level of service on San Bernardino County, the County could claim reimbursement of those costs (General Fund). The magnitude of these costs is unknown, but likely in the millions of dollars on a decennial basis.

ARGUMENTS IN SUPPORT: In a letter supporting this bill, the League of Women Voters of California, Inland Empire United, and California Common Cause states, in part, the following:

By requiring an independent citizens redistricting commission for supervisorial districts, the legislation will help promote fair maps, stronger transparency, and more meaningful public participation. Just as importantly, the bill uses a selection process designed to exclude people with likely conflicts of interest, mirroring safeguards adopted in recent FAIR Maps reform legislation to create a strong and credible county commission model.

ARGUMENTS IN OPPOSITION: In a letter opposing this bill, the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors states, in part, the following:

SB 1414's highly prescriptive nature, coupled with vague and open-ended requirements, creates additional costs and risks. Requirements for "reasonable funding and staffing," as well as broad mandates for outreach and public access, lack clear standards and shift the burden onto [San Bernardino County] to interpret and meet open-ended obligations. Similarly, subjective criteria for commissioner qualifications, such as "analytical skills," "impartiality," and "appreciation for diversity" create the potential for disputes and legal challenges in the [CRCCSB's] selection process. These ambiguities ultimately introduce uncertainty, increase costs, and expose [San Bernardino County] to ongoing operational and legal risk, with no clear funding structure to support implementation.
